From the notes of Lois Neel (Simpson) (Ruckman) Goppert in the Neel family ancestry: Walter was an important person in his nieces and nephews eyes as he was single and always brought candy in his pockets when he came to visit. He always brought a family treat at Christmas time. One year he brought an Edison "talking machine" with a horn and a dozen cylindrical records.

Augusta was a nurse when they met and married. They settled in Spokane, Washington. He and Augusta were special when they visited our families. Both of them are buried in Billings, Montana.

Note from Lois Neel (Simpson) (Ruckman) Goppert in the Neel family ancestry:
Uncle John and Aunt Hattie farmed near Boyd, Montana. We sometimes rode in a horse drawn wagon to visit them. Aunt Hattie usually had one of us spend part of our summer vacation with her as they had no children of their own. Uncle John was a pleasant man, but easy going, and never seemed to make a very good living. Aunt Hattie had expensive tastes and was ambitious, so they were not very congenial. They were divorced which caused much consternation in the family as it was the first divorce in the Simpson Family.

She later married William (Bill) Martin in Washington, and lavished affection upon her stepson, Richard (Dick) Martin. After retirement they moved to Opportunity Washington where they lived for many years after their marriage.
